

PRIVACY POLICY

Skalar Analytical BV. respects your privacy and the protection of your data are really important to us.

Contact Form

When you contact us via the contact form on our website, we ask for minimum information to be able to contact you. These are the mandatory fields of our contact form. You can contact us to request more information about our products, a quote, a call or to apply for a job. We process your data with the greatest care and will only contact you for the reason for your contact request. You will therefore not receive any other emails or post from us, unless you explicitly opt for this.

When we start working together, your data will be processed for the proper execution of the agreement, such as granting access to the necessary systems and invoicing.

We are legally responsible for the careful handling of your personal data (GDPR legislation). We only use your data for the execution of the agreement and will under no circumstances provide this data to third parties. IP addresses are stored, but are not traceable to a person.

Cookies

On our website we use Google analytics to optimally tailor our website to our visitors. These cookies do not contain any personal data. In addition, marketing cookies are placed by a third party to measure the business use of our website. This service shows us company names and addresses based on the IP addresses of our visitors. The IP address is not included here.

When entering the website for the first time. A pop up message is displayed "This website uses cookies: We use functional, analytical and marketing cookies for statistical and optimisation purposes. Please check our privacy policy for more information. Click on 'Accept all' to accept all cookies, or change your cookie settings. Details"

These cookie preferences can be changed at any time via the "privacy settings" on the bottom of the website.

For any questions about our privacy policy you can always contact us.
